Event Summary

"A lot of our strategic partners are present at the event, so it helps us tighten our relationships and explore new ways to collaborate. We are planning to test HealthTech Alpha and see the information that's inside. It's going to be useful to know which companies are investing in which startups, and the sorts of strategic partners that would be interested in Hello Health."

Chris Clarke, COO at Hello Health Group

"The scale of this Summit has really made an impact on the community here in Singapore and the region. The attendance, the depth of conversations, thought leadership and deal making that's going on here has been tremendous. As an investor focused on the HealthTech sector, the data and insights from HealthTech Alpha is just absolutely fantastic to see, and really important to our business. So I'm very privileged to be a part of that family."

Gavin Teo, General Partner at B Capital Group

"It's sometimes really hard to evaluate a startup just based on its sales pitch. It is important to get the background and research around it so that we can pursue a partnership with them. Not a lot of work is being done in this space apart from Galen Growth Asia, who has added a lot of value in helping us scout partnerships with different innovative startups."

Jo Peddhinti, Head, Digital Marketing & Innovation at Sanofi

"Galen Growth Asia has curated an extremely valuable group of companies, making it easy to identify the best players in the HealthTech arena across Asia. It's really been a privilege to be here and a wonderful use of my time."

Simon Hopkins, CEO at Milltrust International Group

"This is a melting pot where I can collect different wisdom from different organisations that not only makes me think bigger, but also differently."

Stanley Li, Founder & Chairman at DXY

Galen Growth Asia's 2019 Most Innovative HealthTech Startup in Asia Tournament Winner

Galen Growth Asia is proud to announce that Hello Health Group is the winner of the 2019 Most Innovative HealthTech Startup in Asia!

Over a period of 10 weeks, Galen Growth Asia brought to you an Asia first: The Most Innovative Asia HealthTech Startup Tournament where 64 of the most promising HealthTech Startups in Asia were pitted against each other and the ecosystem was asked to vote.

This year, the tournament accumulated close to a million votes!

Hello Health Group is building a leading group of health technology platforms in emerging markets. They focus on bringing world-class healthcare information to everyone. Within the context of the emerging markets whereby consumers are largely underinsured, healthcare consumption is often an out-of-pocket expense. As such, a huge percentage of consumers do not seek medical treatment early often enough to avoid otherwise preventable illnesses.

Hello Health Group is working with numerous partners across all markets of operation to ensure all consumers can receive best-in-class medical information to fuel better health decisions.
